Secretary's staff meeting.

Mr. Abplanalp brought in an orientation group of International Information Administration employees from South America.

I was fingerprinted by Mr. Leonard Hutchinson of the Secret Service for my White House identification card.

Dr. von Zimmer-Lehman came in to see me.

Jack McFall came in for his weekly appointment.

Messrs. Linder, Vernon, and Dixon briefed me on cartels.

I saw Myron Cowen sworn in as Ambassador to Belgium in the Secretary's office.

Ambassador Bonnet came to talk to me about the Moroccan International Court of Justice case. He also brought up the question of the purported Fechteler report.

George Perkins came down to see me.

I stopped by Ferdinand Kuhn's for a cocktail and to meet a selected group of newspaper men.
